General

I'm getting a LoadDataSource error popping up when I attempt to generate reports after entering new picks. I have to click "ok" three times before it will generate reports and then it shows empty rows for all entries but the last one.

The most common cause of this error is that you are opening a file with an older version of OfficePool so make sure you have only one version of OfficePool installed on your computer. There are also possible other conflicts that can arise so it's best to archive or delete these older versions as well.
